The i-Con bed is one large iPad dock

Jan 24, 2011 by George Wong

While people are busy trying to escape technology while they're asleep, the folks over at Hollandia have been doing the opposite. Hollandia is a company that specializes in the manufacturing of beds and have just released a new bed called the i-Con. We have no idea why they call it the i-Con, but it is touted to be "the world's first bed designed to work with Apple's iPad." And work with the iPad, it does. When a regular iPad dock just isn't enough for you, the i-Con bed might be what you need. The headboard features 4 built-in speakers powered ...
